• Brooks Funeral Care is an affordable option for funeral and cremation services in the Des Moines area. You get the same level of care and services, just at a lower cost. They cover all end-of-life services whether you are visiting them on a pre-need basis or an at-need basis. Their pre-need services allow you to make your own funeral arrangements and get everything in order and paid for- this lets you have the celebration of life you would like and relieve stress from your loved ones. They also work with you on an at-need level, after a loved one passes, they will work closely with you to make their celebration of life the best it can be. Additionally, they work closely with the faith community and recognize that celebration of life practices are influenced by culture and religion. They want to create the best experience for you in a difficult time. Something they do is offer an all-in-one day of a visitation and memorial service at your place of worship. If you do not wish to hold services at your place of worship, Brooks Funeral Care has a chapel at their location available for your use.

• When someone encounters someone, who is going through a loss, people always say 'Please let us know how we can help'. "We are in a position to say 'we will help you' it's rewarding to know that you've helped someone during a difficult time" shares Blair. But you don't have to wait until someone passes away to make a connection with your local funeral home. "I enjoy and am free to come speak to your organization, church, civic group, school etc." says Blair. The more you learn ahead of time about end-of-life topics, the better prepared you will be to navigate it and help your family.

• They are an all-inclusive funeral home with their pre-need, and at-need services as well as their cremation services. They have different packages to choose from that you can pick from based on you and your loved ones wants and needs. They also have multiple payment options; if your loved one went the pre-need route; they have a guaranteed contract option where even if their prices changed the price your loved one paid for at the time will be locked in. If you are paying for end-of-life services at-need you can pay with cash, check, or credit card. They can also do an assignment against a verified life insurance policy.

• Blair and Sara purchased Brooks Funeral Care location in January 2020. Both Brooks and Sara have over 10 years of experience helping families with end-of-life services in the Des Moines area. "Both of us are committed to the service we give others and we strive to always offer affordable, personal and caring service" says Owner Blair, "we plan to be here a long time".

• Brooks Funeral Home are new members of the Clive Chamber of Commerce and are looking forward to building and forming relationships with others through the chamber as well as making connections in the community that they do business in.
