QB Studios provides an unmatched experience where custom meets cool. They specialize in branding, custom design, decorated apparel, and promotional materials. Using applications of digital/screen print, embroidery, foil, and glitter are just a few ways they can make your brand rock. Choose from a plethora of items to hand out at your next event or to give to your crew as a little thank you.

As a small business, QB Studios created an environment where clients can order just one of most items. By providing production on demand, they eliminate the need for their clients to hold a warehouse full of boxes that may never be worn or used. Of course, they also like to work with "Goliath" businesses, as they have the capacity to fulfill large quantity orders as well. Looking for an easy way to organize your orders for individual events (think fundraisers or family reunions) or for corporate apparel and promotional items, QB Studios can set up a web store to simplify the process for you. Providing the best possible client experience is their number one goal!

QB Studios has been an active Ankeny Area Chamber of Commerce member for many years, enjoying their networking and volunteer opportunities. When asked why they joined the Clive Chamber, John, one of QB Studios' Awesomeness Advisors remarked, "We heard so many great things about Clive that we had to check it out. After meeting with Kristy and seeing her energy and enthusiasm, how could we not join". After attending several Clive Chamber events, QB Studios have met a number of great members. They look forward to meeting more!

Family is important and you are never just a number is QB Studios' motto. An atmosphere of love and genuine understanding of work/life balance and giving back to the community, to pay it forward is the foundation that owner, Julie Mangels created her business on. QB Studios employees treat their clients like family, love what you do, and work hard so they can have a lot of fun along the way.

If you like 1-on-1 consultation, unique designs, a ridiculously fast turnaround time, and want to have a little fun along the way QB Studios is the company for you. If you have an idea, reach out and they will do everything they can to make it happen.
