Terry Snyder, a seasoned veteran in the world of photography, has honed her craft over numerous years. Her journey began in her hometown, where a scarcity of photographers left a void waiting to be filled. Terry, willing to help, started by photographing her son's T-ball team and found her passion. After witnessing the rates of her brother's wedding photographs, Terry decided to start her own business and was committed to keeping the costs reasonable.

Value is important to Terry; she goes the extra mile to ensure the excellence of her work. Operating out of her home and on location eliminates additional expenses for her clients. By personally overseeing the printing process in professional labs and hand-delivering the final products ensures she upholds the high standards she expects of herself. This dedication has made her a top-tier photographer in our community.

Terry Snyder Photography offers a wide range of services, including photography for various occasions, digital reproduction, and the preservation of cherished memories captured on film, slides, and photo albums. Wherever Terry goes, her camera goes, she is often found snapping photos of people, pets, and everything in between. Before the Covid era, she could be spotted capturing shots of countless little league teams, totaling over 500 teams annually. Recently, her focus has shifted towards business headshots, events, senior portraits, and family photos. Additionally, she undertakes the crucial task of documenting home inventory through both video and photos, ensuring preparedness for unforeseen disasters like fires, floods, or tornadoes.

Terry's approach to pricing and customer service is customer centric. By considering her prices from a mother's perspective, she understands the importance of affordability without compromising on quality, which is a key concern for many customers, especially families. Her flexibility in offering a variety of packages and willingness to tailor them to fit the specific needs of her clients demonstrates a commitment to providing personalized service. This flexibility contributes to her ability to meet a wide range of customer requirements and preferences.

Being a member of the Clive Chamber gives Terry the chance to meet new people and make new connections in our community. She shares, "Being involved is not all about my business. I enjoy getting to know new business professionals and building trust with them. These relationships allow me to confidently recommend their businesses."
